VIDEO PRODUCTION

We all know now that the internet and web and mobile phone content is the future of not only advertising, but media distribution as a whole, and with our experience and background, we are perfectly poised to help you use that tool to your advantage.

Not only can we provide immediate mass exposure to (y)our audience, but we can professionally produce, direct, shoot, and edit your video project. Along with the masters, we will also provide a disc of the final project encoded for everything from cell phones to broadcast television.

Among those we've worked with include artists and personalities ranging from the Wu Tang Clan, El-P, and Michael Franti to Wyclef Jean, Ronnie Faisst, and Lyrics Born, as well as progressive organizations such as Darfur Now and Goodlife.com. We'd love to add you to that roster.

Everyone involved are professionals in the video and audio production industry, including producers, directors, and editors that have worked all media outlets from CNN to Current TV.
